

FIP WORLD PADEL REPORT 2025

INTERNATIONAL
PADEL
FEDERATION

Dear Padel Community,

In the past year, Padel has continued to demonstrate its unique capacity to evolve, expand, and surprise. What once seemed improbable is now our shared daily reality. New countries, new fans, new champions, our sport has crossed linguistic, cultural, and geographical boundaries with extraordinary speed and authenticity. We have seen Padel speak new languages, enter new countries, and capture the hearts of new generations. We have seen thousands of new players get on the courts, millions of people follow our shared passion, and hundreds of tournaments ignite the enthusiasm of a global audience. We have seen new flags rise to the top of the podium, a clear sign of the sport's horizontal expansion. This Report highlights the major global tours and international national team competitions organised by FIP – from Premier Padel and the CUPRA FIP Tour, to the FIP Promises, and the FIP World and Continental Cups.

Through data and figures, you will gain insight into the remarkable growth of our sport. This journey is the result of a collective effort. It reflects the commitment of our National Federations, whose dedication and vision have enabled Padel to thrive both locally and globally. To each and every Federation, I extend my heartfelt gratitude: your daily work, your belief in the potential of this sport, and your collaboration were not only vital in making this Report possible, but continue to be the foundation of our future. Allow me to also thank the FIP Research & Data Analysis Department - led by Carlo Ferrara - whose valuable work gave birth to this second edition of the World Padel Report. This document is more than a record of facts and achievements: it is a strategic lens through which we understand the trajectory of our sport. It gives us insight into what we've accomplished, but more importantly, into what lies ahead.

Padel is not just growing in numbers, it's maturing in identity. We are witnessing the development of stronger institutional frameworks, improved infrastructure, and more structured competition calendars. We're seeing the rise of young talents, the commitment of experienced professionals, and the involvement of an ever-widening circle of stakeholders. This development brings with it greater responsibility: to preserve the values that make Padel unique: accessibility, inclusivity, respect, and to ensure that as we grow, we also elevate the culture around our sport. To the players, your dedication, enthusiasm, and resilience continue to inspire us all. Whether you're chasing world titles or simply enjoying the thrill of a match with friends, you are the reason Padel is alive and thriving. To the coaches, you shape the next generation with knowledge, heart, and vision. To the referees, your professionalism safeguards the fairness and integrity of our competitions. And to the broader community, organisers, clubs, media, and fans, thank you for being the lifeblood of this movement. Padel today is not only a sport. It is a global language, a cultural phenomenon, and, increasingly, a model of how growth can be guided by unity and shared purpose.

This Report is dedicated to all of you, and to the next chapters we will write together.

With pride and with hope,

Luigi Carraro

President, International Padel Federation

THE GROWTH OF PADEL IN THE WORLD

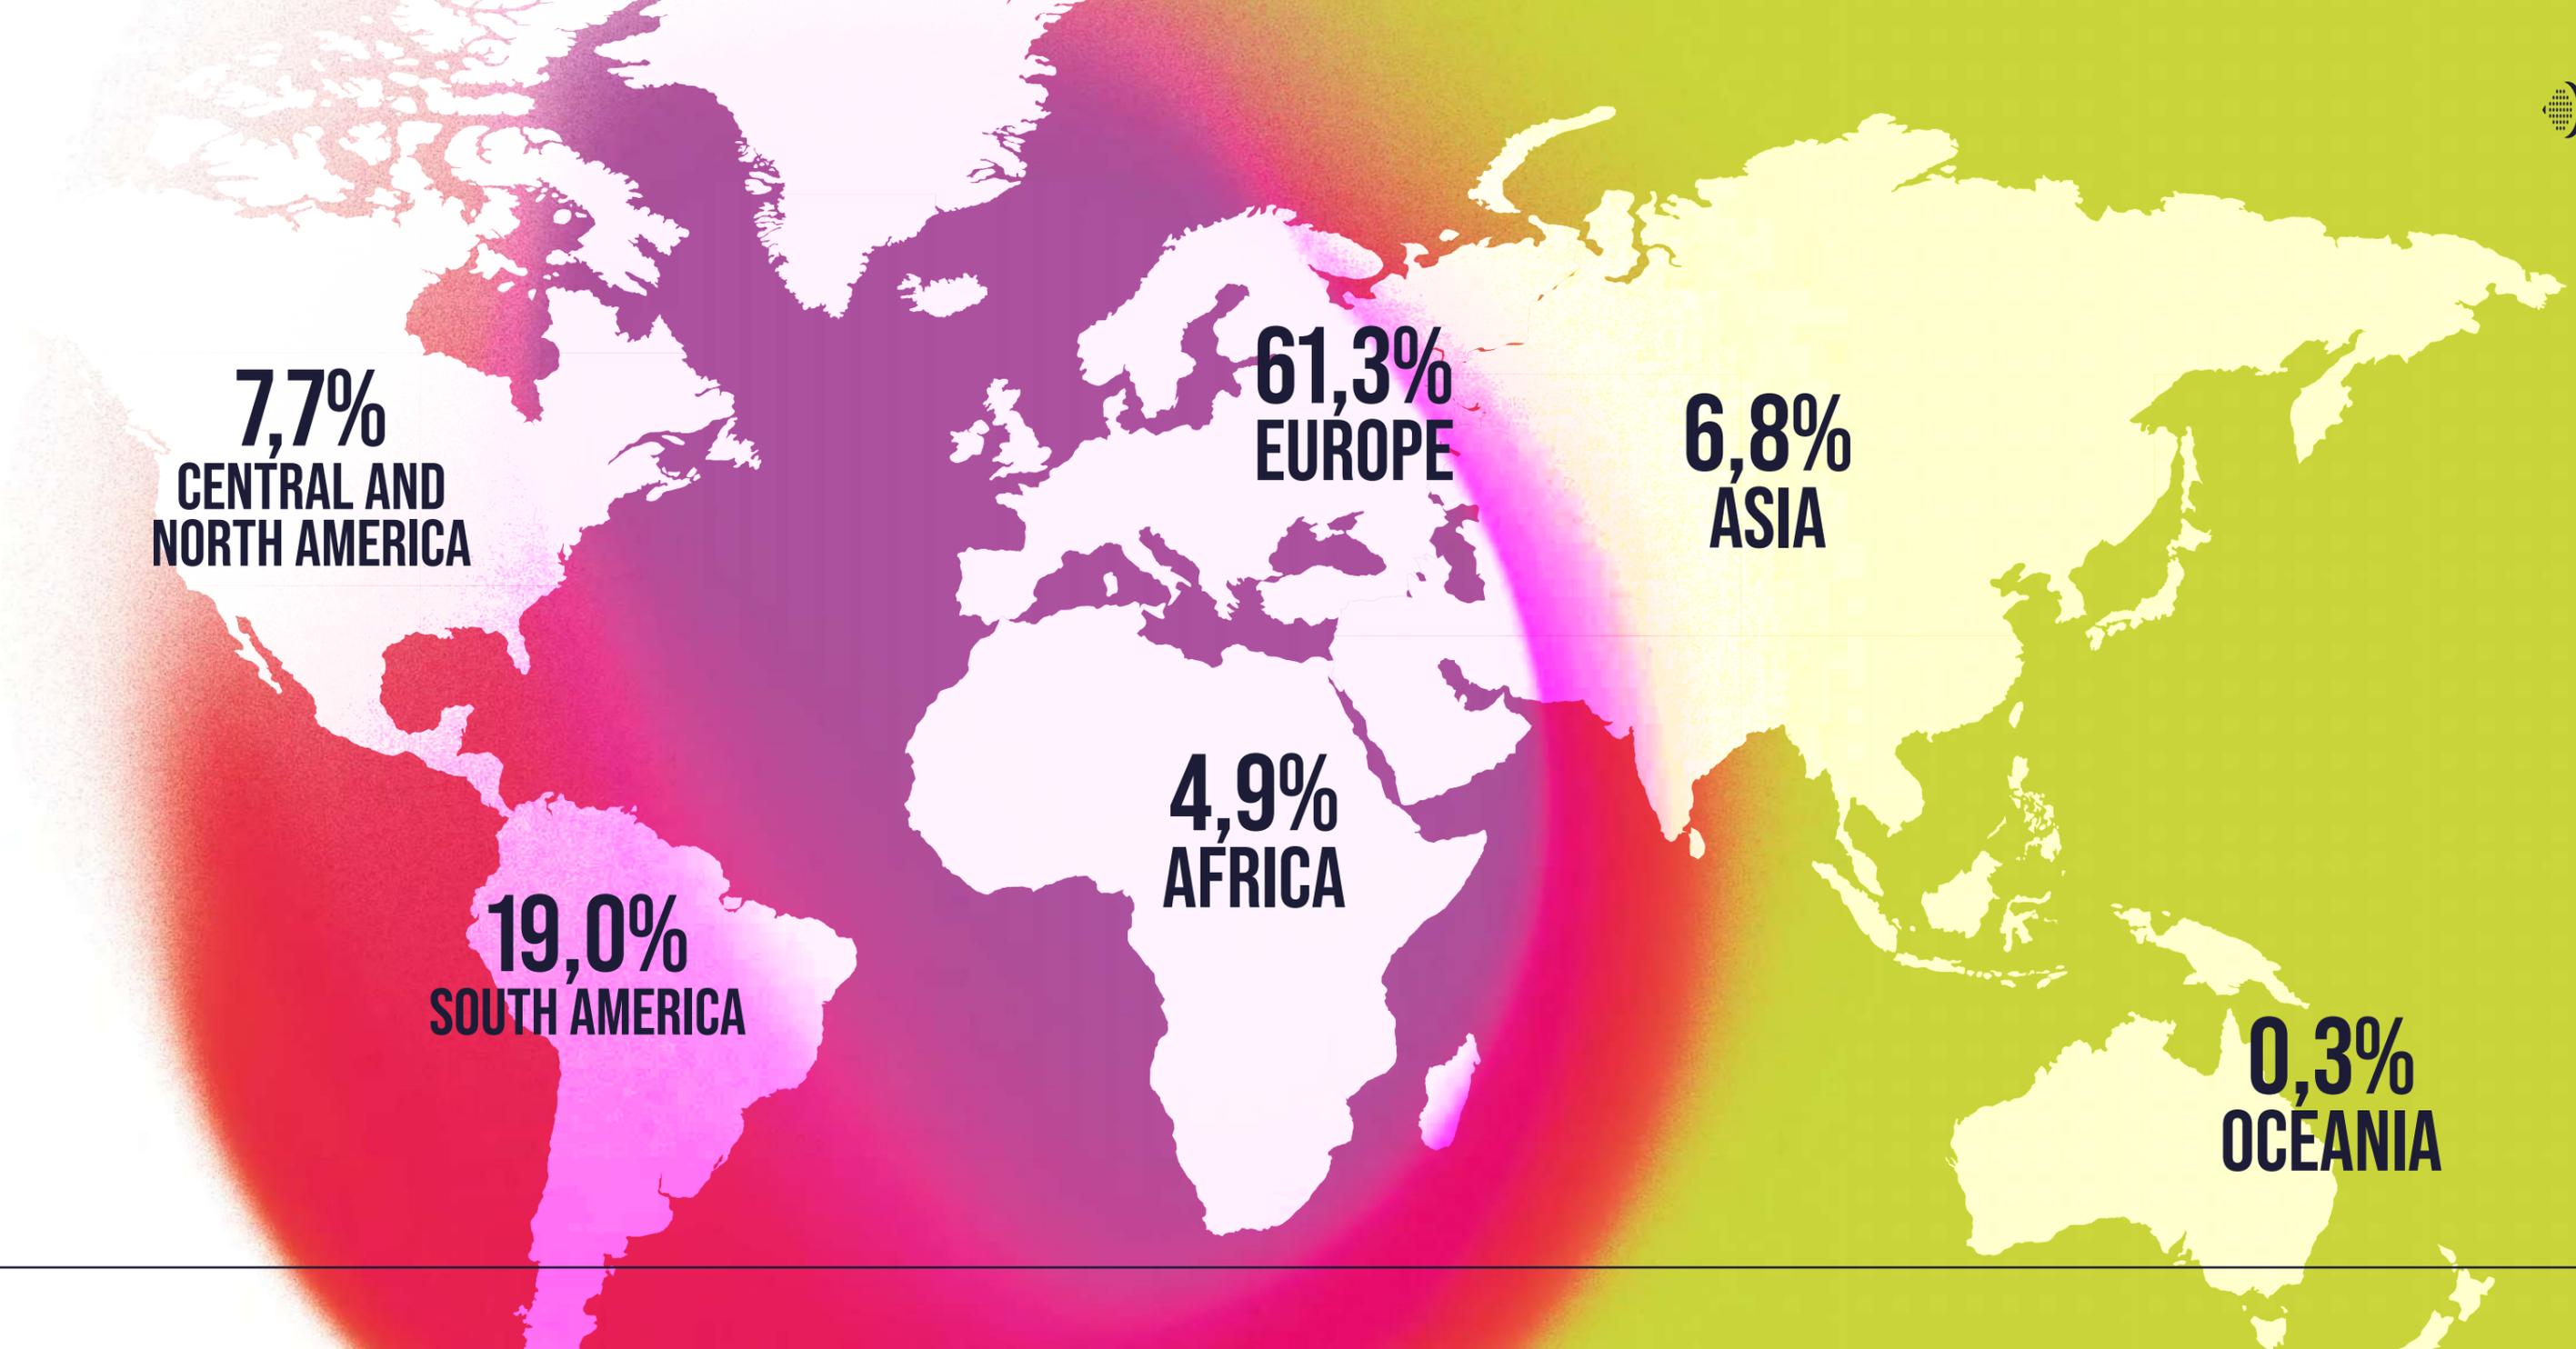

PADEL PLAYER POPULATION

From estimates made by individual federations and analyses by the FIP Research and Data Analysis Department, the number of amateur padel players is more than 35 million of which more than half play more frequently (once a week).

More than 61 percent play the sport in Europe, 19% in South America, 7,7% in Central and North America, 6,8% in Asia, Africa, still growing, exceeds 4.9%, and Oceania has a few fractions of a percentage point.

The majority of amateur players are men (60%), although it is one of the sports most played by women, who account for 40% of the total. The number of player licenses held by national federations affiliated with the FIP has risen to more than:

850,000, an increase of 42% compared to the previous survey.

NUMBER OF PADEL CLUBS

There are more than 24,627 clubs and facilities worldwide where you can play padel, with 35% of clubs affiliated with national federations. Since our last report published 18 months ago (April 2024), the number of sports facilities with padel courts worldwide has increased by 4,775, representing a 24.1% increase (equivalent to an annual increase of 16.1%). 8,612 clubs managing more than 30,000 padel courts are affiliated with national federations, compared to 2023 (5,820 clubs), the FIP has recorded an increase of 48%. There are 150 nations and 20 dependent territories where padel can be played, 26 more than in the previous survey (16 African, 7 Asian, and 3 American UN countries). More than 75 percent of the world's nations have facilities where padel can be played; in Europe, there is at least one club in all 50 nations of the continent. Although FIP member countries account for 59% of countries with padel facilities, they own 96% of padel clubs and courts worldwide. In 2026, this percentage is expected to rise to 99% with the entry of new national federations into the FIP.

COURTS RATIO

BY CLUB

The average ratio of the number of courts to the number of facilities where padel can be played is 3.1 worldwide.

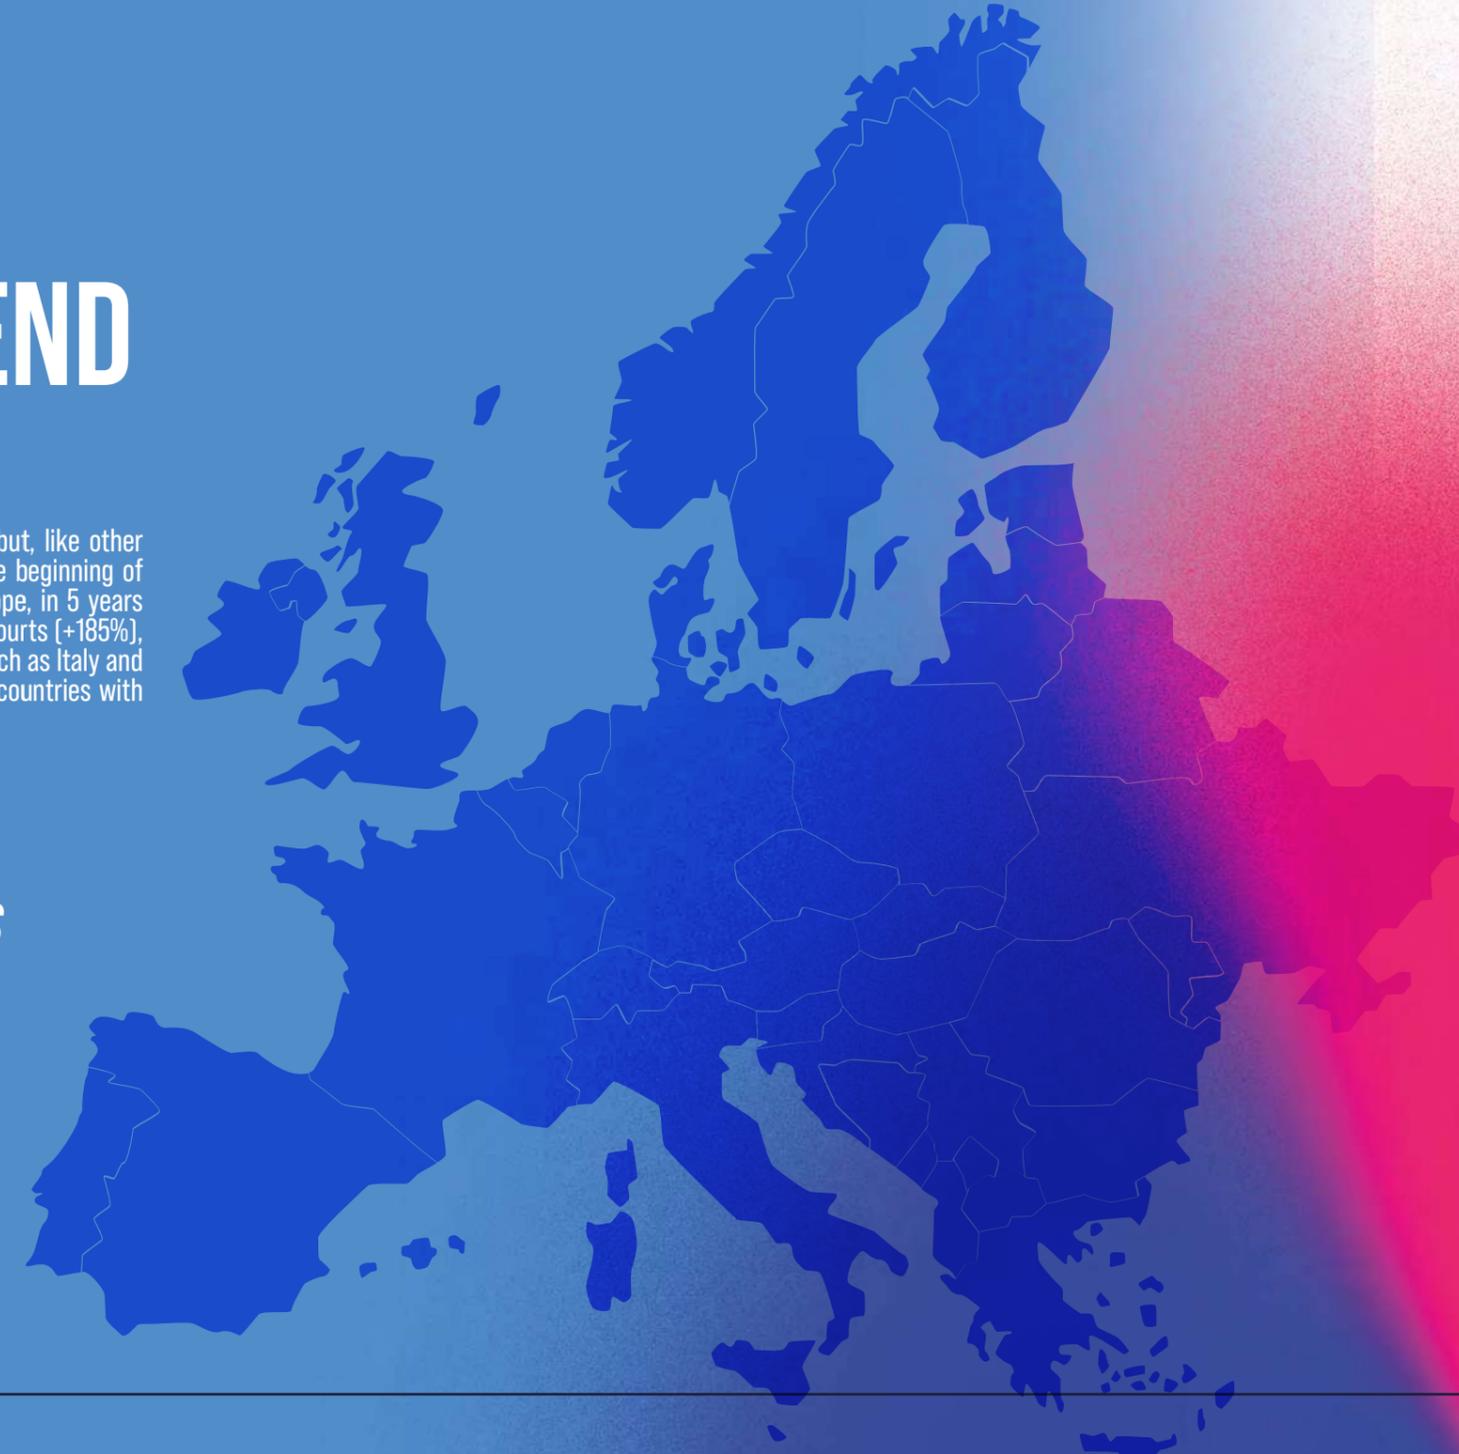

The highest ratio is in Oceania with 3.8 courts per club, followed by Central & North America with 3.6, Europe with 3.3, Africa 3.0 while in Asia and South America the ratio is 2.7.

THE PADEL TREND

IN EUROPE

Europe has surpassed 15,000 clubs and 50,000 padel courts, but, like other continents, it shows uneven growth among its countries. At the beginning of 2020 there were around 5,000 clubs and 18,000 courts in Europe, in 5 years the growth was very strong, 10,000 clubs (+200%) and 33,000 courts (+185%), especially in the first 3 years driven by the boom in countries such as Italy and Sweden, in the last two years the growth has shifted to other countries with more moderate development rates.

But how was 2024, and what are the forecasts for the coming years?

GROWING COUNTRIES

The three major countries (France, Great Britain, and Germany) continued their growth phase in 2024, but they are not the only ones...

France was the country with the highest number of courts installed in the last 18 months (+1,850, equal to an annual growth of over 55%), exceeding 4,000 padel courts, and shows all the positive indicators for further growth in terms of facilities and operators during 2025.

Last year, the Great Britain continued its run that began in 2023 with very high growth rates (an average annual growth rate of 130% in the recent period), with the goal of exceeding 1,000 courts, which was achieved in mid-July of this year. The indicators for this country are also all on the rise.

CONSOLIDATED COUNTRIES

The European countries that have experienced strong growth in recent years and are now showing more moderate growth rates are the two largest: Spain, which with more than 17,300 courts, over 6 million players and 50% of all padel enthusiasts in Europe, continues its growth, and Italy, which has surpassed 10,200 courts and is now undergoing a period of consolidation after the boom, despite being the second country in Europe in terms of enthusiasts, with 11%.

Other countries experiencing moderate growth include the Netherlands, which exceeded 3,500 courts in mid-2025, Belgium (2,150) and Denmark, while Norway (600) and Finland (1,100) experienced a consolidation phase in 2024. Sweden is not yet showing signs of recovery, as the boom of 2020 has yet to be absorbed.

Germany, although with lower rates than the Great Britain, continues to grow (it has exceeded 875 courts thanks to a 50% increase in courts and clubs in the country).

The smaller countries to keep an eye on due to their significant growth in recent times are Switzerland (+400 courts), Greece and Austria (+300 courts), Lithuania (+200 courts), Cyprus (+200) and Ireland (+100).

According to data from Google Trends and the PadelFIP.com website, Portugal (1,560 courts) has seen a sharp increase in the number of enthusiasts in recent times (8% of European padel enthusiasts are Portuguese, the third largest nation after Spain and Italy), ranking third as the country with the highest number of enthusiasts in Europe after Spain and Italy, with the number of facilities where padel can be played growing by more than 17% annually.

EMERGING COUNTRIES

Most of Eastern Europe is still in the start-up phase and is just beginning to learn about this sport, while the countries that began to accelerate this growth phase in 2024 are Poland, Romania, Croatia, and other Slavic countries.

THE PADEL TREND

IN AMERICA

After Europe, America is the second continent where padel is most developed, with 18,100 courts in 6,400 clubs where this sport can be practised. Until a few years ago, when people spoke of padel in America, they spoke almost exclusively of Argentina (and to a very residual extent Brazil and Uruguay).

Now the sport is practised in 26 American countries, several of which are experiencing very significant development.

GROWING COUNTRIES

In the Americas, Mexico is currently experiencing strong growth in terms of the number of enthusiasts, players (over one million) and national and international facilities and tournaments. The United States is still in a transition phase from an initial phase to a growth phase: at the beginning of 2025, the threshold of 650 courts distributed across 31 states in the United States was exceeded (we are now over 770 padel court). Florida has emerged as the fastest-growing state for padel, boasting the largest number of padel courts in the country (41% of the total number of courts in all US states), followed by Texas with 18%, California with 10% and New York (4.7%). In the rest of the United States, we are still in the initial phase.

EMERGING COUNTRIES

Countries such as Venezuela and Ecuador have exceeded 300 padel courts, Panama has reached 200, while Colombia is approaching 500. Bolivia and the Dominican Republic have also exceeded 100 courts, while Perú, Canada, and other Latin American countries are still in the early stages of growth, but with significant rates of increase compared to the previous survey.

CONSOLIDATED COUNTRIES

Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay are experiencing moderate growth, although detailed information is difficult to obtain in these countries. However, data from our observatory, information provided by local federations and analysis of Google Trends data show that the number of practitioners is steadily increasing. Argentina is still the leading country on the American continent with more than 40% of fans across the entire American continent, followed by Mexico with 13% and Chile and the USA with 10% each.

THE PADEL TREND

IN ASIA

In the previous report, padel in Asia was mainly concentrated in the Middle East (89% of facilities).

In 2025, this percentage decreased by 17 points (72%), indicating that the sport has begun to grow in many more Asian countries.

GROWING COUNTRIES

Countries such as Lebanon, Thailand, and especially Indonesia (350 courts estimated and as many as 17% of all padel enthusiasts on the Asian continent) are growing, but countries such as Pakistan and Israel also show several positive growth indicators, albeit to a lesser extent.

EMERGING COUNTRIES

Countries such as the Philippines, China, and India all have positive indicators but still limited growth, especially in relation to their population. South Korea, Bangladesh and Afghanistan are still in an embryonic stage of growth. For some Asian countries, there is difficulty in finding information.

CONSOLIDATED COUNTRIES

The Asian part of the Middle East continued its moderate growth phase this year in most of its countries, which nevertheless recorded an average growth of 18 per cent in facilities (+ 200 clubs and nearly 500 courts). Saudi Arabia is still the leading country in Asia with 438 facilities and 1127 courts (1/4 of all padel facilities and 12% of padel enthusiasts on this continent are located there), followed by the United Arab Emirates (around 1,000 courts and 13.5% of padel fans) and Kuwait (600 courts).

THE PADEL TREND

IN AFRICA

More than 80 percent of the facilities where padel can be played in Africa are concentrated in two countries Egypt and South Africa but padel has begun to make a name for itself and develop on the continent.

It is present in 40 African countries (16 more than the last survey).

GROWING COUNTRIES

South Africa is experiencing a real boom with almost 390 facilities and more than 1,200 courts installed in just a few years. All indicators in this country are on the rise: the percentage of padel enthusiasts, which in 2024 represented 16% of all padel enthusiasts on the continent, now stands at 28%, and Google Trends confirms this growth. Morocco and Tunisia are the other two countries that are growing at a similar and interesting pace, they have exceeded 100 padel courts, and there has been a strong growth in the number of fans in the last year (they represent 13% and 12% of the fans of the sport on the continent).

EMERGING COUNTRIES

The most promising countries that are in the initial growth phase are definitely the Ivory Coast and Senegal (more than 50 courts), Angola, Kenya and Mauritius, a step below, we have Algeria and Ghana, and the rest of Africa still has few facilities to play in.

CONSOLIDATED COUNTRIES

Egypt is the only African country that is at a stage of maturity because it was the first African country where padel exploded and has 44 per cent of the facilities and 31% of the fans on the entire continent.

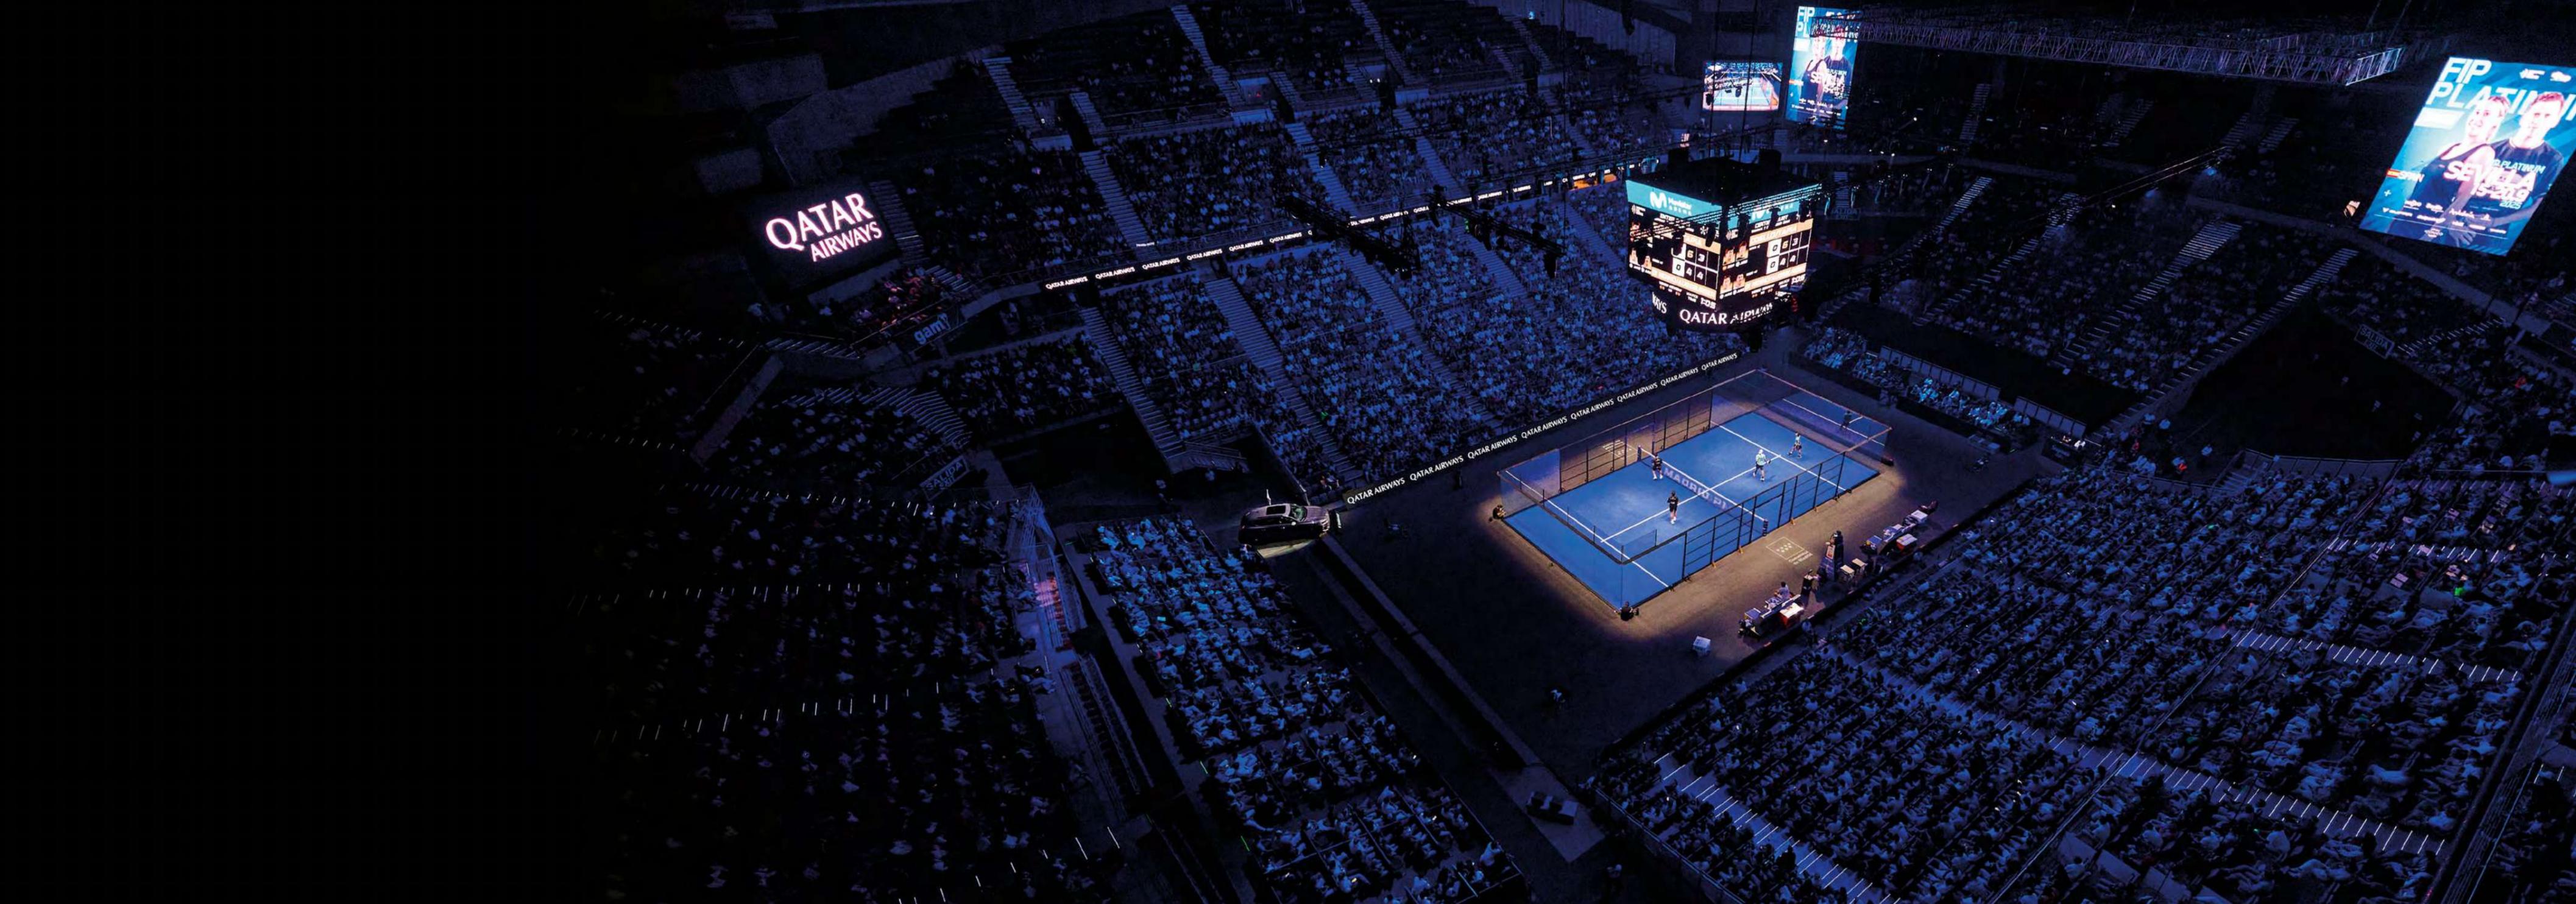

THE PADEL TREND

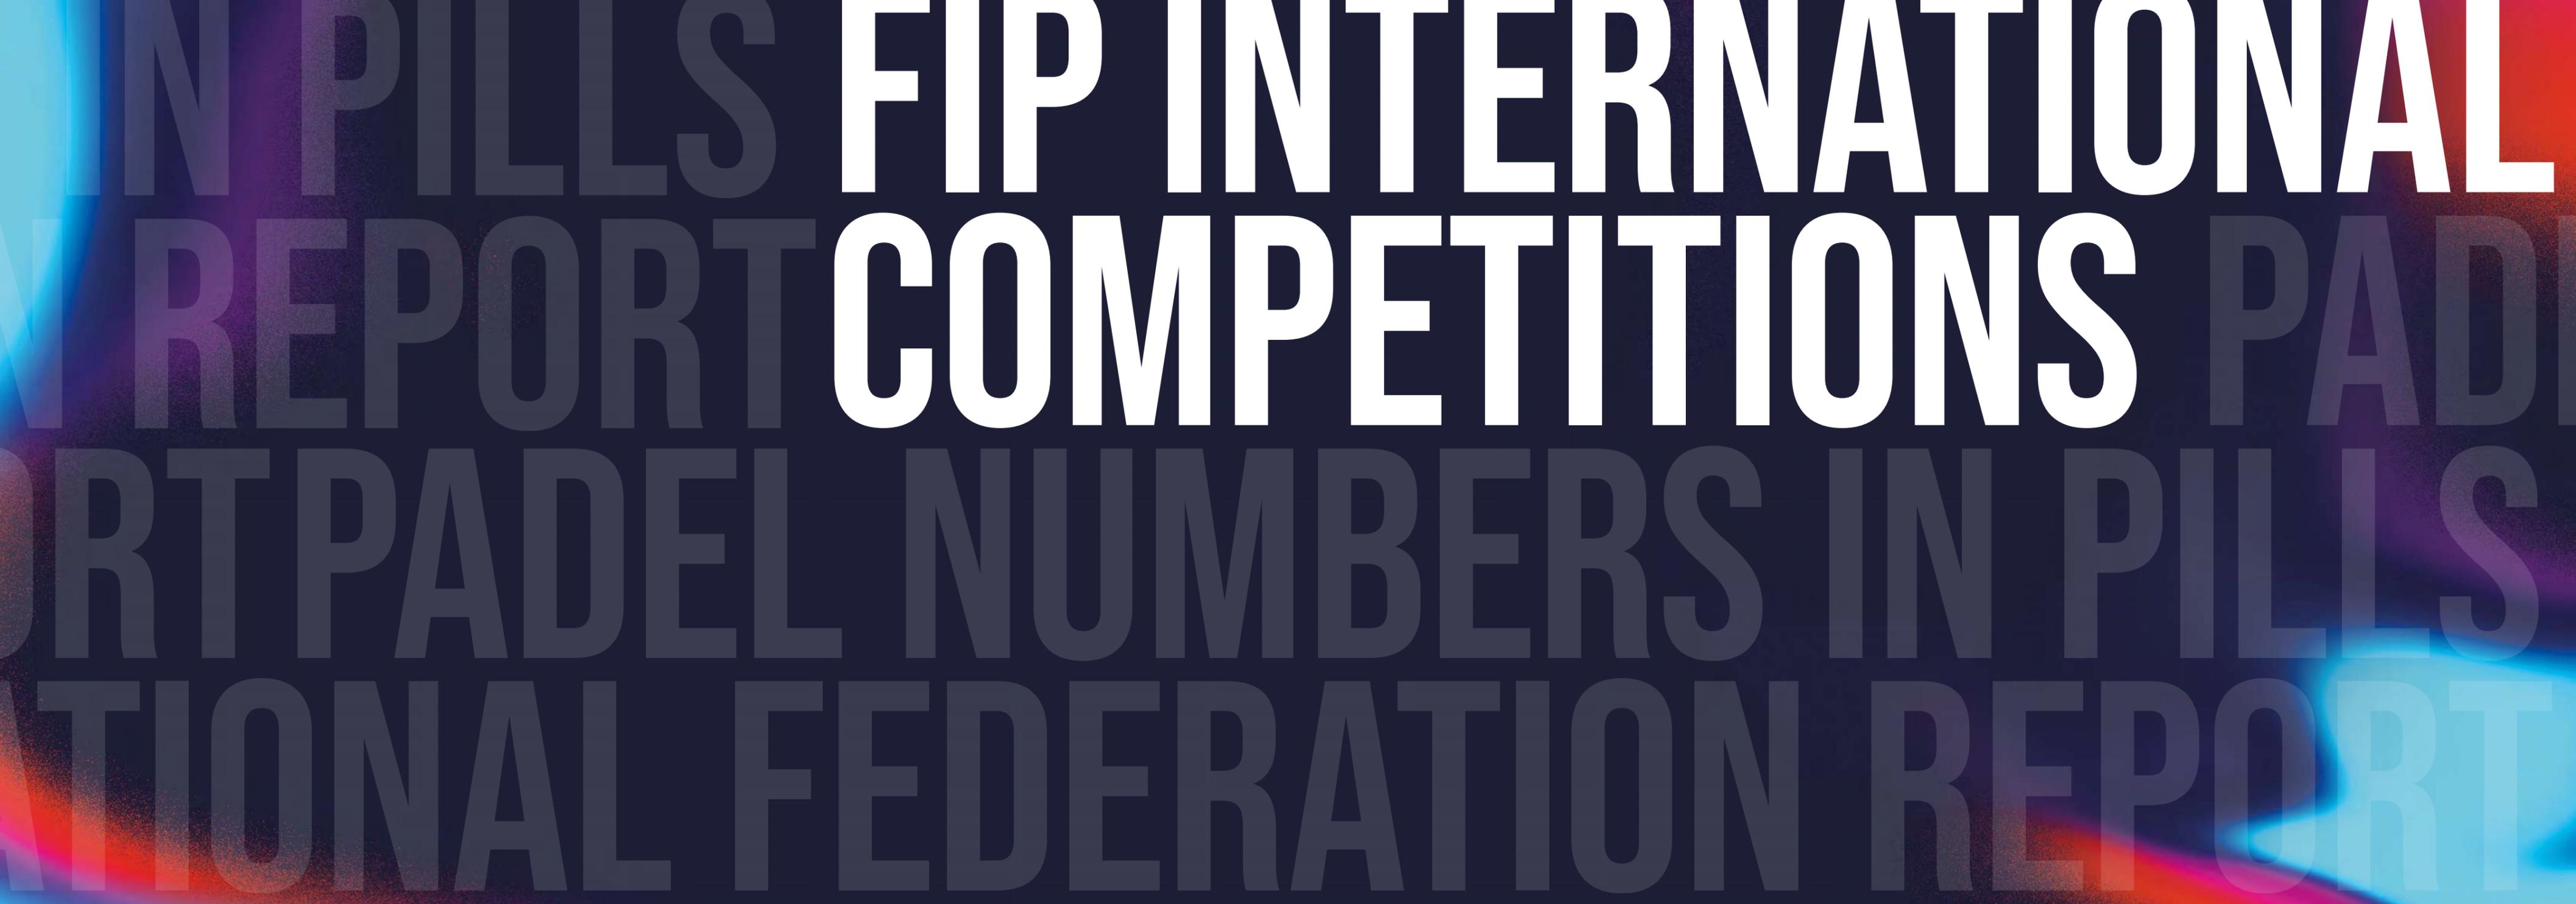

IN AUSTRALIA

Padel in Oceania is moving from an embryonic phase to one of growth.

The main country is obviously the largest, Australia, which has 80 padel courts and is beginning to have a following of enthusiasts, thanks also to some FIP international tournaments held in Sydney and Melbourne. New Zealand is also starting to have dedicated clubs and two other countries where it is possible to play are French Polynesia and New Caledonia.

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION REPORT

The International Padel Federation owns and manages a range of events, from world and continental competitions for both nations and pairs to international circuits such as:

CUPRA FIP Tour, Qatar Airways Premier Padel, and FIP Promises.

In 2026 one brand new circuit dedicated to amateur players will be launched: FIP Beyond.

CUPRA FIP TOUR

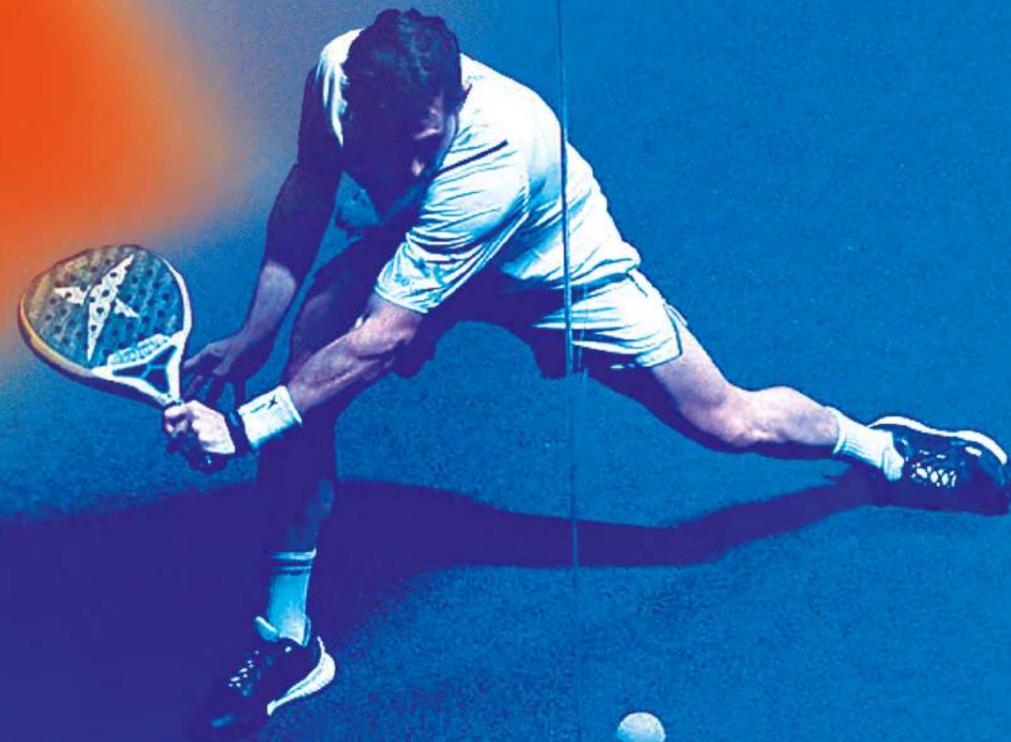

HISTORY AND STATISTICS

The FIP circuit (from 2020 named CUPRA FIP Tour) was born in June 2019 and aimed to ensure that Padel would continue its worldwide growth by allowing players from less developed countries to participate with their earned points, in World Padel Tour tournaments first and Qatar Airways Premier Padel later, and to develop their professional growth by participating in tournaments of international relevance. Originally three categories of tournaments changed according to prize money, scores and player ranking, in order of importance: Star, Rise, and Promotion, to which Gold and Platinum were added in later years. From 2024, the FIP

Silver replaced the FIP Star, while the FIP Bronze replaced the FIP Promotion and FIP Rise. From the start of the circuit until 2024, 499 tournaments (303 men's; 196 women's) have been played at no fewer than 188 locations in 44 different countries on all continents (318 in Europe, 98 in America, 50 in Asia, 27 in Africa and 6 in Oceania) and the winners come from 30 different countries. On the podium of organising countries we have Spain (23%), followed by Italy (16.6%) and in third place the Netherlands (6.2%), in fourth place the first non-European country Mexico (5.8%) followed by Chile, Egypt and Brazil.

QATAR AIRWAYS PREMIER PADEL

HISTORY AND STATISTICS

Qatar Airways Premier Padel Circuit, governed by the International Padel Federation (FIP) and Qatar Sports Investments (QSI) was born in 2022.

The goal of the Tour was to hold high-level tournaments for the first two years and then become the only major international circuit starting in 2024, and this was the case after the agreement to take over the World Padel Tour.

THE YEARS

- 2022 8 tournaments were held all in the men's category.
- 2023 after the agreement with the IPPA association women also joined the circuit, and 6 tournaments were held, including 4 "combined" ones.
- 2024 season saw 23 'combined' tournaments held in 16 countries on four continents plus the Premier Finals in Barcelona, demonstrating Qatar Airways Premier Padel's ongoing commitment to reach new markets, grow the game globally, and inspire more and more people to participate.

FOR THE 2025 SEASON 22 tournaments plus the Premier Finals in December, also in Barcelona, have been planned.

INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION REPORT

NATIONAL FEDERATION REPORT

In 1991, after some meetings between Argentinians and Spaniards and following other international events in those years, the idea of creating an international federation was born.

On July 12, 1991, representatives of Spanish, Argentine and Uruguayan padel associations met in La Moraleja, Madrid. The federation was created and Julio Alegría Artiach became the first president of the International Padel Federation.

Today there are 87 member federations, of which as many as 30 have joined in the past 3 years. There are 45 federations from European countries, 19 from Asia, 12 from America, 9 from Africa and 2 from Oceania.

For each federation associated with FIP, we have prepared a form with the following information:

- Date of the federation's act of incorporation, year in which it became a member of FIP.
- Participation: data on clubs, courts and players at the national level and federation affiliation.
- Performance Players Ranking FIP 2024: Number of players in the FIP rankings.
- FIP Organization Tours: Number of FIP circuit tournaments organized by Federations per year (combined tournaments are considered one tournament).
- Number of winning players by category in Qatar Airways Premier Padel and CUPRA FIP Tour tournaments.
- Podium finishes (gold, silver or bronze) at World Professional, Junior and Senior Championships by nation.

The data on participation were provided to us directly by the federations through the survey conducted at the beginning of the year or through the analysis of the FIP Research and Data Analysis Department, and the rest of the information through the databases of the FIP Research and Data Analysis Department.

Country sheets are in chronological order of year of membership in the International Padel Federation.

ATIONAL FEDERATION REPORT

HOW THE DATA WERE COLLECTED

Data were collected directly from FIP-affiliated National Federations (NFs) through the FIP National Federation Survey 2025. A total of 61 NFs from all five continents completed the survey.

All data were collected and organized by the FIP Research and Data Analysis Department.

For NFs that did not respond to the survey, and for countries that do not yet have NFs affiliated with FIP, an analysis was conducted by FIP's Research and Data Analysis Department using its internal database, with actual data where available or estimated data when necessary.

DATA SOURCES

Some National Federations, especially those established only a few years ago, do not yet have their own databases. Consequently, all contributing National Federations were asked to specify which data sources they used to complete the FIP National Federation Survey. Data sources may include secondary sources such as commercial data agencies and/or data from governments or ministries of sport. Where nations were unable to use primary or secondary data sources, they were asked to provide an estimate or an analysis was conducted within the FIP Research & Data Analysis Department. In some cases, in order to have an up-to-date estimate of the number of padel clubs and padel courts not provided by the federations or not in the Department's databases, authoritative external specialized sources cited here were used: Padel Search, Mr. Padel Paddle, Padelonomics, Padel Gids, Padel Lands, Dansk Padel Forbund.
